Presentation and Learning:

Mike Smith presented Hamclock on a Raspberry Pi. If anyone is interested in doing a “build session” they can obtain a Raspberry Pi, an SD card and we will build them at one of the monthly club meetings.

Unfortunately the prices have really gone up on units. Here are a few links to help you search. You will need a Raspberry Pi, Micro SD Card, Power, and case.

Do not buy the CM3, CM4, or CM5.

All other models should work. The “Zero” models will perform much slower but will function. They are just hard to find cases for sometimes and can only be used with WiFi. The Adafruit and PiShop sites are the more user friendly if you want to browse for kits or parts.

They sell kits.

Amazon has kits but, they are usually $10-15 higher.
